Dr. Langstein has lectured extensively on dental implants, speaking for local, regional, and international study groups, along with national dental implant conferences. He has given talks on the restorative aspects of implant dentistry, focusing on prosthetic and digital solutions and treatment planning for dental implant systems. An emphasis is placed on assisting surgeons and restorative dentists collaborate efficiently along the digital workflow.

DIGITAL AND RESTORATIVE CONCEPTS FOR THE IMPLANT TEAM: OPTIMIZING OUTCOMES USING DIGITAL SOLUTIONS 3 CE

Restorative implant dentistry is undergoing significant change. With the development of new technologies spearheaded by innovation in the dental implant industry, we are now able to give expanded restorative options to our patients. This comprehensive program will integrate these techniques and innovative technologies into a practical approach for the restorative implant dentist, surgeon and dental team.

Learning objectives:

1. Comprehensive implant planning involving single and multiple-span, restorations, utilizing the Straumann implant ecosystem-Teamwork between the Surgical and Restorative Team.
2. Review of digital restorative impression and restorative components.
3. Emergence Profile, and options/techniques to obtain anatomic results at the time of surgery and beyond.
4. Immediate provisionalization with temporary crowns and custom anatomical healing abutments-including the new AHA stock anatomic healing abutment.
5. Dental materials: zirconia, lithium disilicate, PEEK, and others.
6. Abutment design: stock, custom milled and the New custom angulated screw abutment.
7. Uses and techniques.
8. Problem solving and troubleshooting cases.
9. Implant design: which implants are optimal for different clinical presentations.
10. New techniques and clinical pearls for the restorative dentist.

PATIENT RISK MANAGEMENT 101: BEST PRACTICES FOR PATIENT CONFLICTS, DOCUMENTATION, COMPLAINT PREVENTION & TERMINATION 3 CE

Dental schools don't spend time teaching you how to effectively manage practice-related patient risks. Join a corporate lawyer who trains dental professionals to learn about practical, low-cost and easy-to-implement processes, best practices and strategies to protect your practice from patient complaints and conflicts.

This presentation helps dentists, dental teams and office managers prevent costly patient complaint and conflict risks. Learn how to be more proactive using forms, notices, policies, staff training and conflict management practices to prevent practice nightmares. Develop strategies for patient risk management including patient termination.

Learning Outcomes:

1. Introducing and examining the concept of dental practice patient risk management.
2. Outlining the range of common patient risks that require management in dental practice.
3. Providing best practice recommendations for managing patient risks.
4. Developing your patient management processes to ensure consistency, clarity and proper documentation so that you avoid common problems and have evidence ready if you are subject to a complaint.
5. Developing skills for having hard conversations and effectively dealing with conflicts.
